Safety information

Hospitals, electronic implants and pacemakers

Do not use or place device near any medical device.

Anyone who is fitted with an electronic implant or pacemaker must hold the device on the opposite side as a precaution when the device is on.

Radio Interference

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class A digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference when the equipment is operated in a commercial environment. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instruction manual, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. Operation of this equipment in a residential area can cause harmful interference, in which case the user will be required to correct the interference at his own expense.

Fire hazard

Do not leave your device near heat sources such as radiators or cookers.

Do not leave your device charging near flammable materials as there is a risk of fire.

Contact with liquid

Do not expose the device to liquid or touch it with wet hands. Any damage caused by liquid may be irreparable.

Batteries

The device contains Li-ion batteries. Do not disassemble the device. Do not destroy the batteries. Never use battery that have been damaged. Leave batteries away from magnetic objects as the latter might cause a short circuit (between the positive and negative terminals of the batteries) and destroy battery and device. As a general rule, you should not expose the batteries to very high or low temperatures, (below 0°C or above 45°C).

Shock and impact

Handle and use your device with the utmost care. Protect your device. Shocks and impacts may damage it. Part of the device is made of glass and might break if the device is dropped or is subject to severe impact. Do not touch the display with sharp objects.

Maintenance

Cleaning: dry cloth only.

Do not disassemble device.
